October 25th – Money & Identity Safety

Join us for our 4-part Finance Series from Bank of America's Better Money Habits. The program was designed in partnership with Special Olympics and National Disability Institute to teach spending and saving basics for persons with disabilities to overcome barriers to support economic success. Participants will learn the basics of budgeting and how to set and achieve higher savings goals.

Additional resources and worksheets will be distributed during the event for continued planning and practice outside of the classroom.
